

REMARKS/ARGUMENTS

The foregoing amendments have been made for the purpose of more properly claiming the insufflation feature of the present invention and the fact that the insufflation passage way is configured to discharge the pressurized fluid when the cutting tip has substantially penetrated the body tissue. This permits the additional protected feature of the present invention and helps prevent injury to the individual in the matter illustrated in the figures of the present invention.

In view of the foregoing, an early and favorable office action is believed to be in order and the same is hereby respectfully requested.

Respectfully submitted,

OBLON, SPIVAK, McCLELLAND,
